

Hello today I'm going to introduce you to three of my favorite books.

The first book is Un cuento perfecto of Elisabet Benavent this book is about a girl and a boy who meet one day in the park while they are running. The girl has problems and the boy has problems too.

The second book is Orgullo y Prejuicio of Jane Austen this book is about a family with five daughters. It is a romantic comedy. The father wants to marry his five daughters with rich men, in the end some daughters fall in love.

The third and the last book is Los Futbolisimos 1 of Roberto Santiago this book is about a football team called Soto Alto. In a football match, one of the referees falls a sleep so Soto Alto football team investigates why. In the end another referee put sleeping tablets in his drink to become more popular.

That's it , thanks for your attention.
